No problem. It's a pot story. Gotta be mellow or something ... right? (This joke is not admissible as evidence).

Subject: Thank you and my new contact information

Hello everyone,

As many of you know, there have been mass staff reductions at our newspaper and throughout the Southern California News Group.

As of Wednesday, I will no longer be at the Daily News.

I'm thankful to each person who receives this note, grateful for the opportunity I had to meet you, and humbled that you allowed me to come into your life or work place in some way, with my pen and my notebook, to share information or a story with readers. The last 15 years at the Daily News have been filled with joy, challenges, and even heartache. Mostly, it's been rewarding.

It is a great honor to be a reporter and I'm sad our industry has changed so drastically. But I hope in some way you'll keep in touch with me. I plan to do some freelance writing. I'm mostly interested in health and science news, so I hope you'll keep me in mind if you come across any stories that you think a broad audience might enjoy reading.

My contact information is [REDACTED]
and I'm at [REDACTED]

Thank you again for your time, your kindness and consideration.

All the best,
Susan.

Kate,

Josh is trying to get the information on the Mission Area shooting for you.

In regards to LAPDHQ being compromised, here is the limited info I have for you:

1. Our Department investigators have not determined the Who, What, When or Where. These types of investigations can be very lengthy as our Department works with outside entities during the investigation
2. We are only aware of LAPDHQ being compromised
3. The Department's Information Technology Division (ITD) handles the on-line security concerns.

Thank you,
Trish

Hi Trish, I had a couple questions I was hoping to ask the chief today after commission...hoping you can help track down some answers instead.

About the shooting in Mission yesterday:

1. Was a SMART team called to the scene? If so, was it on scene at the time of the OIS?
2. Chief Beck said officers knew the man who was later shot and killed by name. Just to clarify: Those specific officers knew the man by name? How many interactions had the LAPD had with this man prior to yesterday's call? When did those interactions occur? (Over the last year? Over the last month? etc.)

About the Twitter hack:

1. Have investigators identified who hacked the site? Any info on who that person(s) might be?

2. Was the @LAPDHQ account the only LAPD account hacked, or were there others?
3. Are there any broader concerns about the LAPD's online security after the hack? Any other specific security issues that you are aware of?

If I could get answers sometime today, I'd really appreciate it. Thanks!

Great. Here's a general outline with some questions embedded.

I'm interested in what data the LAPD collects on vehicle and pedestrian stops and how that data is used. Does the command staff analyze the data by the race of the people stopped? If not, why not? Are those numbers useful as an indicator of racially biased policing?

If the data collected is less extensive than required by the consent decree, why was this downgrade made? Does the department still collect detailed information on whether the person was asked to get out of the car, frisked, arrested, cited, etc.? I've reviewed several reports about the consent decree-era stop data, including the 2008 ACLU report, and am wondering what your assessment is of those reports.

I'm also interested in the changes that will be required by the new state law, AB 953. Will this data be useful for the department? Will it be a burden on police officers and leave them less time for pro-active policing, as an LAPPL board member argued in a column?

Thanks again for your help!

Hello Kate,

Josh mentioned that you inquired about an incident involving the LAPD and an LAFD firefighter last fall in Hollywood. I've researched this and all I know is that the LAPD Hollywood Command and the LAFD Station neighboring the Hollywood Station have a great relationship and work very well together. My suggestion is that you reach out to LAFD, if you haven't already done so, for information.

Hey Josh, hoping you can get the ball rolling on this request this afternoon, in hopes of getting an answer sometime tomorrow.

I'm trying to help a colleague track down some information about an incident involving the LAPD and an LAFD firefighter that we believe happened last fall (sometime before October). I don't know too many details, but it appears that officers handcuffed a firefighter in a parking lot next to the fire and police stations in Hollywood. The firefighter's name was Edward Morgan, if that helps.

We're just trying to figure out what exactly happened – when it happened, why the officers approached the firefighter, how it was resolved. I asked a couple folks over at Hollywood Division, but they didn't know anything. I'm hoping you might be able to help.

I might have more questions for you later, but right now we're just trying to verify what exactly happened.

Thanks,

Kate Mather

Here are some answers for you...

So far 6,200 cameras have been deployed. We have 500 more to go with Metro being outfitted this week. Then smaller units should get them as well. When it's complete there will be 7,100 cameras deployed. The completion date will be mid March.

DICVS

All the divisions have the Digital in car working except for North East because they had to rebuild the infrastructure. The cameras are in the cars for that area but they are not operational yet. By Mid March they will be up and running and it will be a total of 1,200 cars

We have not purchased any SUAS yet as the funding has not been approved by council yet. We still don't have a timeline on that, however once the funding is approved we will purchase the units shortly after. There will be some training time before they are deployed.

Do you know:

1. How many body cameras have been deployed to officers as of today, how many are left to be deployed and when that deployment is expected to be complete?
2. How many DICVS cameras have been installed as of today, and whether there are any remaining DICVS cameras to be installed? If there are DICVS cameras left to be installed, any idea when that installation will be complete?
3. Has the LAPD purchased any drones yet? When do you anticipate having the drones ready to use?

No rush on this. if I could get the info sometime this week, I'd appreciate it.
